LONDON APRIL 12.

IT ſeems now to be pretty generally believed, that a coalition is actually on foot, between the preſent adminiſtration and the leaders of the Minority. As a confirmation of this we have been aſſured, that not only Lord Camden has been at court, and had a private conference with his Majeſty, but that the Marquis of Rockingdam, the Earl of Chatham, and the duke of Northumberland, have appeared there alſo within theſe few days.

The preſent plan talked of for an accommodation between the majority and minority, is ſaid to be the production of Lord Lyttelton.

A letter from Denbighſhire, received on Tueſday, contains the following account: "The people of this county have refuſed to pay the land-tax, in conſequence of which great diſturbances enſued, and the military quartered in this neigbourhood have been called upon to aſſiſt in preſerving the peace, and reducing the mal-contents to order, which we hope they will be able to affect, but are apprehenſive a reinforcement will be neceſſary."

This day his Majeſty went to the houſe of Peers, and gave the royal aſſent to the following bills, viz.

The bill to continue an act for puniſhing mutiny and deſertion in the American colonies.

The bill for repealing part of an act, for granting certain duties on goods imported into the Britiſh colonies in America.

We hear a great lawyer has declared it as his opinion, that the courts of aſſiſtants of certain city companies have done ſufficient to warrant the Lord Mayor, to diſfranchiſe ſuch members as voted for the public avowal of diſobedience to the chief magiſtrate.

It is confidently ſaid, that if the diſfranchiſements now ſo much talked of in the city ſhould take place, mandamuſes will iſſue from the court of King's bench, to reſtore the ſufferers their freedom.

It is ſaid the Britiſh Tully has declared his intention of impeaching, the firſt meeting after the holidays, no leſs than five perſons.

APRIL 14.

A motion was made on Wedneſday in the lower room of the Robinhood ſociety, for leave to bring in a bill for the encouragement of the Mancheſter linen-manufacture, by granting the ſame bounties as are allowed to the Iriſh and Scots manufactures. The motion was ſupported by producing two witneſſes to prove the decline of the Mancheſter manufacture ſince the Scots and Iriſh had received the aid of parliament; but Mr. B——ke, Mr. F——ler, and many other gentlemen were of opinion, that a parliamentary ſupport given to the Mancheſter manufactory would greatly injure, if not totally ruin thoſe eſtabliſhed in Scotland and Ireland; however, the queſtion being put, it paſſed in the affirmative. [A good miniſterial expedient, to prevent the clamours of thoſe manufacturers; when decline of trade ariſes from the American Reſolutions of Non-Importation, not from the Bounties granted on Scotch and Iriſh Linens.]

The Lord Mayor in ſpeaking laſt Thurſday of the unparalleled behaviour of the three diſſenting companies, among other things, ſaid, 'If the precepts of your chief magiſtrate are to be controlled, what need have you for a chief magiſtrate? If every maſter of a company has an abſolute independent power over the livery of his company, the power of your Lord Mayor is at an end. Inſtead of one Lord Mayor, you will then have ſixty-four Lord Mayors.'

We hear that Mr. Wilkes, againſt the advice of many of his friends, is determined, on his enlargement, to go to a certain place, and to demand, in perſon, to be admitted to take his ſeat, as member for the city of Middleſex. The manner of this proceeding being without a precedent, it is thought the conſequences of it will be ſo too, and that they will occaſion a greater confuſion in the kingdom than any circumſtance reſpecting Mr. Wilkes has hitherto done.

Letters from Paris, dated April 6, adviſe, that the princes and peers were invited to ſit in parliament on the Tueſday following, to deliberate under his Majeſty's orders, and in his preſence, on the affairs of the Duke de Aiguillon.

No credit is now given in the city to the late rumours of an approaching war with any of the continental powers.

LONDON.

The two following ADDRESSES have been handed about in London,

To the GENTLEMEN, CLERGY, and FREEHOLDERS of the County of Middleſex.

GENTLEMEN,

I Obey the ſtrong impulſe of a lively gratitude, when I thus employ the firſt moment of my liberty to thank you for the many favours you have conferred on me during a long, cruel, and unmerited impriſonment. My ſufferings the two laſt years were endeared to me, as well as rendered truly honourable, by the ſupport and protection of the friends of freedom. The trial was indeed long and ſevere, but the moſt happy conſequences have followed. The favourable opinion you were pleaſed at firſt to entertain of my integrity and fortitude has been confirmed on a variety of occaſions, and I have experienced as frequent proofs of your unwearied zeal for your country, and ſteady regard to me. I will go on with the ſame ſpirit in the cauſe of a brave and free people. To their ſervice, to the defence of the laws, and to the preſervation of the religious and civil liberties of the whole Britiſh Empire, the remainder of my life ſhall be dedicated. I rely ſolely and entirely on your protection, and I will form no connection, which may in the ſmalleſt degree warp me from my duty to you, either as the dependant of a miniſter, or even as the ſervant of the crown, for I think a repreſentative of the people ought to be perfectly free and unbiaſſed, in order more effectually to keep every miniſter in awe, and to oppoſe every encroachment of the prerogative, againſt which the Houſe of Commons was eſtabliſhed as a firm barrier. I will therefore know no influence in parliament, but that created by the conſtitution, that of the conſtituents over their repreſentative, and I do not mean to acknowledge any other conſtituents than thoſe patriotic friends, by whoſe favour I am the legal member for the county of Middleſex.

I reflect, gentlemen, with great ſatisfaction, that the many tedious months of my harſh confinement were not uſeleſsly employed in the common cauſe of public freedom. I have enjoyed in priſon the fruits of my long labours, the glory of deſtroying that dreaded engine of arbitrary power, ſo cruelly employed of late, and ſo often fatal to our countrymen, a General Warrant. After every delay of privilege and chicane from May 1763, an upright Jury in laſt November declared a late Secretary of State guilty. No puniſhment however has reached that firſt and great offender. The treaſury paid the fine, and the whole expence of the proſecution, and he has been even rewarded with the cuſtody of the privy-ſeal. The very ſuperior abilities of my worthy colleague, Mr. Serjeant Glynn, were exerted through the whole of this important caſe. To his indefatigable zeal, and love of legal liberty, every ſubject of this empire has the moſt effectual obligations. I have taken care that all the proceedings in this great ſtruggle of the people againſt the uſurped power of miniſters ſhall be entered in the proper Court, and I hope the record will remain unaltered to our lateſt poſterity, as a compleat triumph of liberty over deſpotiſm. I feel with indignant ſorrow, that I have not been equally ſucceſsful in another national concern, which I had at heart, I mean a ſtrict parliamentary enquiry into the horrid maſſacre of our countrymen in St. George's fields on the fatal tenth of May, 1768. I gave to the public all the original papers reſpecting that wicked ſhedding of innocent blood, by which the land is defiled, and I offered to bring the evidence to the bar of the Houſe of Commons. The only hope which now remains to us is, that the virtue of a future parliament, faithful to the truſt repoſed in them by the people, will ſoon purſue the murderers, that juſtice will at length overtake them, and that the moſt ſhocking of all crimes will not be left unpuniſhed. The horror of the action is ſtill freſh in the mind of every man of humanity, and I hold it to be the greateſt reproach of our age and nation, that ſo many of our fellow-ſubjects have been baſely murdered by an inhuman ſoldiery in St. George's fields, and other hired ruffians at Brentford, without a ſingle victim to the public juſtice of our country, to the future ſecurity of our lives, or to the violated laws of God and man.

The ſtate of this county, gentlemen, is truly alarming. The Houſe of Commons have not only rejected a member choſen by a majority of the freeholders, but likewiſe obtruded upon you a perſon, whom you never elected. They have openly aſſumed the whole legiſlative power. By their vote they have delared an incapacity, where the law of the land, and common right, rendered the party eligible to parliament. This proceeding is a direct attack both on the form and eſſence of the conſtitution, a flagrant violation of the fundamental privileges of Engliſhmen, and a robbery committed on every elector of the kingdom, even in the moſt invaluable of all his poſſeſſions, the right of repreſentation in the Houſe of Commons. You have petitioned, you have remonſtrated, in the ſpirit of true ſons of liberty, but in vain. The reaſon is moſt manifeſt. The meaſure of my expulſion and incapacity was previouſly ſettled in the cabinet, and only brought to parliament by the miniſter, in order to go through the common forms, as other buſineſs in the uſual courſe of the ſeſſion. The nation however are not the dupes of this artifice, and they regard the preſent Houſe of Commons as no longer a juſt and fair repreſentative of the collective body of all the electors in this united kingdom, and therefore they do not hold that the power and authority of a legal Houſe of Parliament is inherent in the aſſembly now ſitting at Weſtminſter.

I am happy, gentlemen, to leave a hateful priſon without the leaſt ſpark of anger or reſentment againſt the authors of all my ſufferings. I have no malice nor revenge to gratify. I feel no paſſion, but that of gratitude to my friends, and my only enemies ſhall be thoſe of my country, thoſe who ſtill manifeſt a rooted, unrelenting malice againſt the liberties of this kingdom, and who endeavour to entail ſlavery on us and our poſterity. If my perſecutions are not yet ended, I will continue to bear up as a man, firm and determined in the beſt of cauſes, nor for your ſakes will I ſcruple to dare all the vengeance of thoſe wretched miniſters, who are now the rulers over us, but poſſeſs neither the confidence, nor the eſteem of the people. If his Majeſty be graciouſly pleaſed to liſten to the cries of a loyal but injured nation, and to remove a moſt corrupt and deſpotic adminiſtration, who are every day baſely and deſperately ſtabbing the very vitals of the conſtitution, I ſhall hope to live among you in the enjoyment of the firſt bleſſing and the moſt ſovereign good, LIBERTY, both perſonal and political, and when I can be no longer uſeful to my country, to die happy in the applauſe of the friends of freedom and of England.

I am with deference and regard, Gentlemen, your faithful and obedient, humble ſervant, JOHN WILKES.

To the worthy Inhabitants of the Ward of FARRINGDON WITHOUT.

GENTLEMEN, FREEMEN, and FELLOW CITIZENS,

I Cannot ſufficiently acknowledge and applaud the perſevering ſpirit and chearfulneſs, with which you have ſtruggled through the various difficulties, ariſing from my inability to attend the duty of this great and reſpectable ward. My future conduct will beſt ſhew the ſenſe I have of ſo ſingular an obligation. The tedious impriſonment to which I was ſentenced for the firm oppoſition I made to a wicked miniſtry, is at length happily paſſed. By regaining my liberty this day, I hope to acquire the power of rendering you real ſervices, and from the ſuperior rank you have conferred on me, of becoming more eminently uſeful. I ſhall not fail to attend the next court of aldermen, when, in ſupport of your rights, I mean to lay claim to, and inſiſt upon, the being admitted and ſworn into office, as having the honour of being elected by the general voice of ſo conſiderable a part of the city.

It is a particular ſatisfaction to me, gentlemen, that I am to enter on my duty at a time when we are governed by ſo excellent a chief magiſtrate, and have ſheriffs of the moſt liberal principles, zealous promoters of the public good, and of approved virtue. But above all I rejoice that the high ſpirit of liberty, joined with prudence, temper and intrepidity, in ſo peculiar a manner now animates the whole body of the livery of London. The late petition and remonſtrance will reflect honour on them to the remoteſt ages. The Engliſh hiſtory does not give a ſtronger inſtance of the uprightneſs of our countrymen, nor an example of any body of men more untainted by corruption, more uninfluenced by every conſideration of fear or intereſt, and more calm yet determined, in a great cauſe. In the time of the laſt Stuart King, during the general confuſion, when the daſtardly tyrant fled, the principal nobility and gentry reſorted to our Guildhall for protection, and concerted with our anceſtors, the citizens of this metropolis, that generous and equal ſyſtem of power, which was eſtabliſhed by the people at the glorious revolution, and confirmed by the ſucceeding parliament in the Bill of Rights. We have ſeen the moſt valuable of thoſe rights, the right of ceſſion the livery of London have ſhewn themſelves the worthy deſcendants of ſuch anceſtors. The petition and the remonſtrance have carried that enormous grievance to the throne in a ſpirited and becoming manner. I truſt that their public virtue and firmneſs will at laſt triumph over the tyranny of the preſent adminiſtration, and that our Sovereign will reſtore the conſtitution, thus ſhaken from its foundation, by the ſpeedy diſſolution of a houſe of commons, abhorred by all good men, odious to the whole nation, and the validity of whoſe acts is now daily arraigned by their former conſtituents. Such a conſequence I think may ſoon follow from the noble conduct of this city, and of other great and public-ſpirited bodies of men. After that happy event the people of England may expect from their true friends in a future honeſt parliament, the three eſſential, and only effectual remedies of this diſtempered ſtate, acts for the excluſion of penſioners, for the ſhort duration of parliaments, and for an equal repreſentation.

I know, gentlemen, how much the power and wealth of this great city depend on its trade and commerce, which have always flouriſhed moſt in the freeſt ſtates, and never arrived at perfection but under the patronage of liberty. I ſhall therefore be ever ready to receive your directions on theſe important points, and on whatever relates to the proſperity of this city, and the particular intereſt of our ward. Every probable plan for the advancement of the common welfare, as well as every mercantile conſideration, ſhall have its due weight in my mind. I will ever be a zealous defender of the rights and privileges of the livery, of all the freemen of London. In the concerns of this extenſive ward I hope to have the advice and aſſiſtance of my conſtituents, every one of whom may be aſſured of that attention and regard, which I owe to thoſe, by whoſe delegated power I act, and for whoſe intereſt I accepted this important truſt. It ſhall be my conſtant and earneſt endeavour to juſtify to the world the choice you have been pleaſed to make of me as your alderman, and to approve myſelf an upright magiſtrate, and a good citizen of the capital of the Britiſh empire. I am,

Gentlemen, Freemen, and Fellow Citizens,
With gratitude and reſpect,
Your affectionate,
and Obedient humble Servant,

April 18, 1770. JOHN WILKES.

of his preſent Majeſty's reign, intituled, "An act for granting certain duties in the Britiſh colonies and plantations in America; for allowing a drawback of the duties of Cuſtoms upon the exportation, from this kingdom, of coffee and cocoa nuts of the produce of the ſaid colonies or plantations; for diſcontinuing the drawbacks payable on china earthen-ware exported to America; and for more effectually preventing the clandeſtine running of goods in the ſaid colonies and plantations," as relates to the duties upon glaſs, red-lead, white-lead, painters colours, paper, paſte-boards, mill and ſcale-boards, of the produce or manufacture of Great-Britain, imported into any of his Majeſty's colonies in America; and alſo to the diſcontinuing the drawbacks payable on china earthen-ware, exported to America; and for regulating the exportation thereof.

WHEREAS in and by an act paſſed in the ſeventh year of his Majeſty's reign, intituled, "an act for granting certain duties in the Britiſh colonies and plantations in America; for allowing a drawback of the duties of cuſtoms upon the exportation, from this kingdom, of coffee and cocoa nuts of the produce of the ſaid colonies or plantations; for diſcontinuing the drawbacks payable on china earthen-ware imported to America; and for more effectually preventing the clandeſtine running of goods in the ſaid colonies and plantations, it was, amongſt other things, enacted, that there ſhould be raiſed, levied, collected, and paid unto his Majeſty, his heirs and ſucceſſors, certain duties upon glaſs, read-lead, white-lead, painters colours, and upon the ſeveral ſorts of paper therein mentioned; as alſo upon all paſte-board, mill-board, and ſcale board, which ſhould be imported into any colony or plantation in America, under the dominion of his heirs and ſucceſſors:" And whereas the ſaid duties, in ſo far as they affect the produce and manufacture of Great-Britain, do in their nature tend to the prejudice and diſcouragement thereof, and are therefore contrary to the true principles of commerce: May it therefore pleaſe your moſt excellent Majeſty, that it may be enacted; and be it enacted, by the King's moſt excellent Majeſty, by and with the advice and conſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and commons, in this preſent parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That, from and after the firſt day of December one thouſand ſeven hundred and ſeventy, ſo much of the ſaid before-recited act as relates to the duties thereby granted upon the reſpective goods herein before mentioned, ſuch goods being of the produce and manufacture of Great-Britain, ſhall, in reſpect of all ſuch of the ſaid goods as are of the produce and manufacture of Great-Britain, be, and the ſame is hereby repealed and made void to all intents and purpoſes whatſoever.

And whereas, in and by the ſaid before-recited act, it was alſo further enacted, that no drawback ſhall be allowed for any china earthen-ware, ſold after the paſſing of that act at the ſale of the united company of merchants of England trading to the Eaſt-Indies, which ſhall be entered for exportation from Great-Britain to any part of America: And whereas the allowing the ſaid drawback, under certain reſtrictions, may encourage and and ſecure the immediate trade of this kingdom with the Britiſh colonies and plantations in America; be it therefore enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That from and after the firſt day of December, one thouſand ſeven hundred and ſeventy, the ſaid clauſe in the before-recited act of the ſeventh year of his Majeſty's reign, diſcontinuing the ſaid drawback payable upon china earthen-ware exported to America, ſhall be, and the ſame is hereby declared to be repealed and made void.

Provided always, and it is hereby further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That from and after the ſaid firſt day of December, no drawback ſhall be paid or allowed for any china earthen-ware exported or entered for exportation from this kingdom, to any place whatſoever, unleſs the ſame ſhall be packed up in the preſence of a proper officer or officers of the cuſtoms appointed for that purpoſe, in ſome warehouſe belonging to the united company of merchants trading to the Eaſt-Indies wherein the ſame ſhall have been lodged at importation, and ſhall be ſent to be exported directly from ſuch warehouſe, under the ſeal and care of ſuch officer or officers of the cuſtoms; any law, cuſtom, or uſage to the contrary notwithſtanding.

NEW-JERSEY.

At a meeting of the FREEHOLDERS, MERCHANTS, and TRADERS of the county of Eſſex, at Elizabeth-Town, on Tueſday the 15*th of* June, 1770.

WHEREAS the preſent critical ſtate of public affairs, loudly calls on every member of the community, to uſe his utmoſt influence in order to ſupport the invaluable liberties, handed down to him by his anceſtors: The merchants, traders, and freeholders, of the county of Eſſex, having ſeriouſly conſidered the diſintereſted efforts of the merchants and traders of the neighbouring colonies, to ſave their ſinking country, by entering into an agreement, not to import goods from Great-Britain, until the acts of parliament, paſſed for the expreſs purpoſe of raiſing a revenue in the colonies, ſhould be totally repealed, which if continued, appears the moſt probable means of accompliſhing the valuable end ſo nobly deſigned.—And it being repreſented to us, that ſome few individuals in ſeveral of the neighbouring colonies, from motives inconſiſtent with, and injurious to the common cauſe of liberty, in order to raiſe their own private fortune, are uſing their influence to break through this laudable and patriotic agreement; and which if violated or broken through, would for ever hereafter diſcourage their friends in Great-Britain and elſewhere, from exerting themſelves in our behalf, or putting any confidence in our moſt ſolemn aſſurances: By which means we ſhall be always conſidered as a wavering, diſunited people, and fit ſubjects for every impoſition.——And as by this important agreement of the merchants only, they have themſelves, plighted their faith to the public, that they would inviolably adhere to the ſame, which has hitherto prevented other branches of the community from adopting meaſures for the like ſalutary purpoſes.——Therefore as we now think it incumbent on every individual to exert himſelf in ſupporting the common cauſe, we have unanimouſly entered into the following reſolutions;

1ſt. That the ſaid non-importation agreement, appears to be founded on the trueſt policy, and is a legal and conſtitutional method of diſcovering our ſenſe of the ſeveral acts of the Britiſh parliament, paſſed for the expreſs purpoſe of raiſing a revenue in the colonies as aforeſaid; and that thoſe adhering thereto, are entitled to the approbation and thanks of every freeholder in the colonies.

2dly. RESOLVED, That as it appears that the enemies of our happy conſtitution in Great-Britain, have prevented the full effect of the ſaid patriotic agreement, by induſtriouſly propagating a miſtaken opinion of a diſunion in the colonies, with reſpect to the ſaid agreement; and an incapacity, as well as want of firmneſs in ſupporting ſo ſelf-denying a ſcheme, and having prevailed on the manufacturing towns to withhold their intereſt, and ſuſpend their clamours, aſſuring them, that in caſe thoſe impoſitions could be continued another year, we ſhould be obliged to diſcontinue this neceſſary meaſure, and thereby be ever afterwards expoſed to their unreaſonable reſtrictions and impoſitions.—We do therefore unanimouſly agree to make known our ſentiments, that the ſaid agreement ſhould be firmly adhered to, until the ſaid acts of parliament be totally repealed.

3dly. RESOLVED, That we will not [illegible] or by commiſſion, receive, purchaſe, ſell, or otherwiſe [illegible] any of the ſaid goods or merchandize imported from Great-Britain, contrary to the ſaid agreement; and that we will not trade or have any commercial intercourſe with ſuch perſons, who ſhall import goods, or cauſe them to be imported, or with any perſon who ſhall purchaſe goods or other merchandize ſo imported,—but that we will uſe every lawful means in our power, to hinder the ſale of ſuch goods, in any way whatſoever.

5th. RESOLVED, That we are determined, that we will at all times, be ready to join in any meaſures that ſhall be entered into by the colonies in general, to carry the deſign of ſaid agreement into the fulleſt execution; or if neceſſary, to render the inconveniencies occaſioned thereby to individuals, more equal and tolerable.

6th. RESOLVED, That we do highly approve and applaud the ſpirited behaviour of our Boſton, New-York and Philadelphia brethren, in renouncing all commerce and intercourſe with the traders and inhabitants of Newport in Rhode-Iſland, who have ſo perfidiouſly deſerted them in this glorious ſtruggle: And we do agree to obſerve the ſame rules of conduct, they have ſo properly adopted, with reſpect to the ſaid traders and inhabitants of Newport

7th. RESOLVED, That we are well convinced that theſe are the general ſentiments of all the freeholders and inhabitants of this Province; and we will readily concur with them in any farther meaſures they may propoſe, for the ſupport of an agreement, upon which the preſervation of the liberties of America ſo eſſentially depend.

8th. RESOLVED, And laſtly, that we will at all times, do every thing in our power to preſerve good order and decorum in this province, and to ſtrengthen the hands of government, agreeable to our invaluable conſtitution.

NEW-YORK, JUNE 7.

We find by the Boſton papers and by private advices, that the importers of goods there, are ſo odious and contemptible, that they are generally ſhunned as if infected with the plague, ſo that they live moſt unhappy and miſerable lives, and moſt of them apprehend they ſhall be obliged to leave the colony; as the people from the higheſt to the loweſt, think it highly ſcandalous to aſſociate with, or be ſeen in their company. Sundry perſons who were ſuſpected to have viſited or have private dealings with ſome of them, having been on that account mentioned in the papers there, they have publiſhed advertiſements offering conſiderable rewards for the diſcovery of the authors of thoſe reports, which they eſteem as highly ſcandalous and injurious to their characters.

CHARLES-TOWN, JUNE 28.

IN Conſequence of the Advertiſement by the General Committee, in our laſt, there was Yeſterday as numerous and reſpectable a Meeting of the Inhabitants, at LIBERTY-TREE, as ever had aſſembled there; who, after chooſing CHARLES PINCKNEY, Eſquire, Chairman for the Day, came to the following RESOLUTIONS, Nem. Con. viz.

That as undoubted Intelligence had been received, of ſome of the Inhabitants of the Colony of RHODE-ISLAND (dead to every Feeling, but a criminal Attachment to their private Intereſt) having been guilty of a Breach of their Agreement, by importing Britiſh Goods, while the Minds of their Countrymen are filled with the greateſt Anxiety for the ſuſpending Fate of their Liberties; and others, of the ſame Colony, not having properly exerted themſelves to prevent ſuch an atrocious Attempt; they are Objects of the ſevereſt Animadverſion, deſerving of every Oppoſition, and ought to be treated as Betrayers of American Liberty, until they ſhall have made ample Satisfaction and Atonement for their heinous Duplicity of Conduct.

That therefore all commercial Intercourſe and Dealing between us and them, ſhall immediately and finally ceaſe and determine. Except, that ſuch Goods as are already ordered from thence, or are expected in Payment, by Perſons now actually reſiding in this Province, may be landed and received, if they arrive in One Month from this Date, but not after, and the Baggage of Paſſengers at all Times. That no other Goods whatever belonging to any Inhabitants of the Colony of Rhode-Iſland, Maſters of Veſſels, or Paſſengers, ſhall, with their Conſent, be landed. And that all Maſters of Veſſels from thence, be accordingly deſired peaceably to depart this Port within 24 Hours after their Arrival, without unloading.

That as the People of the Colony of GEORGIA (the Hon. Jonathan Bryan, and a few other Individuals excepted) have acted a moſt ſingularly infamous Part, from the Beginning of the preſent glorious Struggle for the Preſervation of American Rights, to this very Inſtant, and baſely taken every poſſible Advantage of the more virtuous Colonies; ſo they ought not only to be conſidered under the ſame Predicament as the deluded People of Rhode-Iſland, but alſo to be amputated from the Reſt of their Brethren, as a rotten Part that might ſpread a dangerous Infection.

That therefore all commercial Dealing and Intercourſe between us and that Colony ſhall likewiſe ceaſe, in Fourteen Days, from this Date. That all Maſters of Veſſels from thence, after the Expiration of the ſaid 14 Days, be accordingly deſired peaceably to depart this Port within 24 Hours. And that no Britiſh Goods imported for that Colony muſt be landed here. But, as it has been repreſented, that Bonds are given in Great-Britain for the Landing of ſome Articles in America, the returning with which, might ſubject the Veſſels of innocent Perſons, ignorant of the preſent Reſolutions, to Seizure; therefore it is agreed, ſuch Articles may be tranſported in other Veſſels, during the Courſe of Three Months, and no longer; after which, no Britiſh Goods whatever, are to be ſo tranſported.

That no Subſcribers to our Reſolutions, who are poſſeſſed of Eſtates in Georgia, ſhall be affected by theſe Reſolutions; but may import the Produce of ſuch Eſtates as uſual.

That theſe Reſolutions ſhall continue of Force, and be inviolably adhered to, until we ſhall have received undoubted Aſſurance, that the Merchants and other Inhabitants of Rhode-Iſland and Georgia have united in, and will firmly adhere to, the important Meaſure of Non-Importation.

That the General Committee do give the earlieſt Notice, to all the Northern Colonies, of theſe our Reſolutions; and recommend to them, immediately to adopt the ſame Meaſure in Regard to Georgia, and in the fulleſt Extent.

That the General Committee do forthwith write another circular Letter to, and exhort all the Northern Colonies, to extend their Plans to every Object included in our's; and not to confine their Non-Importation to the Repeal of the whole of the Revenue-Act of the 7th of His preſent Majeſty.

That as ſome few indiſcreet Perſons have pretended to doubt, whether our General Reſolutions reſtrain Subſcribers from dealing with any but Non-Subſcribers; it is reſolved, That every Subſcriber who ſhall preſume, directly or indirectly, to purchaſe from, or ſell for, any VIOLATOR of the General Reſolutions, be looked upon in the ſame odious Light as a Violator himſelf, ſhunned as a Peſtilence, and held in the utmoſt Abhorrence and Contempt.

That no brown or coloured Linens of any Kind, except Oſnabrugs and Canvas, were meant to be allowed to be imported, by our General Reſolutions; which expreſsly reſtrict the Importation of Linens to WHITE only, not exceeding 18 Pence Sterling per Yard.

That the Inhabitants now aſſembled, are thoroughly ſatisfied of the Rectitude of the Conduct of the GENERAL COMMITTEE, in every other Reſpect, as well as in their UNANIMOUS Determination, at their FULLEST Meeting, with Regard to the Goods imported, and agreed to be ſtored, by Benjamin Mathewes, and afterwards opened, claimed and ſold by his Mother as a Partner. —And are convinced, that the Caſes of Mr. John Edwards and Mr. or Mrs. Mathewes are widely different; the Cargoes of the former having clearly appeared to have been bought long before it was known that any Reſolutions had been entered into by this Province; and that the Goods of the latter were purchaſed after Copies of our Reſolutions had been received in England; as well as that Mr. Lightwood's Chaiſe and Mr. Rutledge's Horſes, were purchaſed before our Reſolutions were known in England, and prevented coming out earlier, merely by Accidents. That therefore Mrs. Ann Mathewes's Publication in Mr. Wells's Paper of the 15th Inſtant, is for the moſt Part a Miſrepreſentation, and in others, charging the General Committee with Partiality, untrue and malicious.

Theſe Reſolutions having been ſeverally agreed to, after mature Deliberation, the People were informed that the Merchants upon the General Committee had made Choice of Miles Brewton, Eſq; to fill up a Vacancy occaſioned by the Death of Daniel Dogley, Eſq; and their Choice was unanimouſly approved of.

Mr. Pinckney was then deſired to render the moſt grateful Thanks of the People, to the General Committee, for their moſt extraordinary Zeal and Attention in the Diſcharge of their important Truſt—which was done accordingly.

Mr. Pinckney, as Chairman for the Day, alſo received public Thanks, and then the Meeting was diſſolved.

We are informed, that certain Perſons have already diſpatched an Expreſs to Georgia, with the above Intelligence.

As it hath been ſtrongly ſuſpected, that European and Eaſt-India Goods, imported from Great-Britain into Georgia, have, ſince our Reſolutions not to import, been from thence frequently ſlipped into this Town, in Rice Caſks (as ſome foreign Sugars lately were) we are told, that ſuch Veſſels as may yet arrive from thence during the Continuence of our Intercourſe with that Province, will be moſt narrowly watched and examined—and that ſome Pains will alſo be taken to prevent Smuggling from that Quarter for the future.

By Capt. Blundell, who arrived here laſt Monday from New-York, we learn, that Ralph Izard, Eſq; was returned from England, in the Ship Edward, Capt. Kemble, which was loſt the 29th of May on Barnegat Beach, with half the Furniture of Dunmore's Baggage on board.

Laſt Tueſday the Carolina Packet, Capt. White, ſailed for London, having on board the Hon. Edward Fenwicke, Eſq; and his whole Family, as Paſſengers.

The ſame Day embarked for Philadelphia, in the Brigantine Prince of Wales, Capt. Maſon, James Poſtell, Eſq; and Family, Mr. Paul Trapier, jun. Mr. William Bull, and other Paſſengers.

The Scooner Betſey, Turner Vardell maſter, of and from this Port, for Georgia, was drove aſhore in the Storm between the 6th and 7th Inſtant, upon the Iſland of Oſſabah; but is likely to be got off without much Damage.
